Ozone Hurt By Nitrogen Fertilizers?

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Nitrogen fertilizers may ultimately cause more damage than aerosol sprays to the ozone layer which protects the earth from the sun's most intense ultraviolet rays, a Harvard scientist says.

As the national debate increases over the use of aerosol sprays containing fluorocarbons such as Freon, Michael McElroy is focusing on the $8-billion nitrogen fertilizer industry.

"Our abundance of food in the United States depends in large measure on our chemical industry," he said in an interview Sunday, noting that nitrogen fertilizers greatly increase crop yield.

However, nitrogen fertilizers trigger a series of chemical changes which ultimately produce nitric oxide. That chemical eventually finds its way into the stratosphere containing the protective ozone layer.

An excess of nitric oxide reduces the ozone, and McElroy thinks it may do three times as much damage as aerosol sprays, based on present projections of production.

He is lecturing on the subject this week at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder.

"Philosophically, we are trying to feed too many people. Nature could have the last laugh, as we eat and die," he said.

However, the Irish-born scientist is quick to add that simplistic statements of impending doom have given the environmental movement a bad name. He is not predicting doom — but urging research.

If production of man-made nitric oxide continues to expand at projected levels it will exceed nature's production, and McElroy estimates it eventually could reduce the ozone layer by 30 per cent, perhaps by the year 2000.

This compares with other scientists' predictions of a 10 per cent reduction of ozone if the 1974 production level of aerosol sprays using fluorocarbons is stabilized.

Scientists aren't sure what the ozone reduction would mean, but McElroy says it could disrupt plant life within the sea, food grains ashore and increase skin cancer among humans.

ROUNDTOWN

SOCIAL Security representatives will be in Circleville to assist the public on Thursday. Questions will be answered and assistance given in filling out forms from 9-11 a.m. at Pickaway Senior Center, 430 Lancaster Pike.

ANYBODY have an unused refrigerator in good running condition lying around the house? The Circleville Youth Baseball Program is looking for one for their concession booth at Ted Lewis Park. They don't have the funds to pay for one, but will make arrangements to pick it up. Anyone wanting to contribute a refrigerator to the youth baseball program may call 474-4331.

JUNE 30 is the final date for filing personal property taxes with the Pickaway County Auditor's Department, Margaret Remy, auditor, reminded local residents today.

It has been customary for the county to apply for and receive an extension of the personal property tax deadline, but the law permitting the extension has been changed.

Mrs. Gandhi Case Appeal

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Lawyers for Prime Minister Indira Gandhi went before Supreme Court Justice V.R. Krishna Iyer today to file her appeal against her conviction on a charge of illegal campaign practices and to ask him to allow her to continue in office until the full court decides the appeal.

The judge was expected to announce later today or Tuesday whether he would issue an indefinite stay against the trial court's sentence barring Mrs. Gandhi from elective office for six years. Consideration of her appeal against the conviction will not begin until the Supreme Court returns from vacation in mid-July.

Highly placed sources in Mrs. Gandhi's Congress party said if Iyer rules against her, she was considering trying to remain at the head of the government under a legal provision that allows a person to be a cabinet minister for six months without being a member of parliament.

The sources said Mrs. Gandhi could attempt to justify invoking this law with the argument that she expects the Supreme Court to exonerate her before the six months elapse.

Energy Agency Vote Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A major bill creating a state energy agency goes to a House floor vote Wednesday with minority Republicans threatening to act as spoilers.

The bill, which creates an Ohio Energy Development and Research Agency, already has passed the Senate as an emergency measure.

But it faces tough questioning from House Republicans who contend they've been cut out of the legislative process. It must receive some Republican votes in the House to pass as an emergency measure.

If passed by the legislature, it faces an unfriendly reception by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes, who through a spokesman has said the bill is unacceptable.

The controversy in the bill comes from two sources. One is supposed defects in the technical language of the bill giving the authority the power to issue revenue bonds, defects which Republicans say will make the bonds unmarketable.

The other controversy is over who will control the authority. Rhodes wants a board appointed by him; the legislature is passing a bill with board members appointed by the legislature.

"The structure of the board is not acceptable to us," said Thomas J. Moyer, the governor's top aide, adding that the bonding language has "very serious defects."

Moyer's words take on added weight in light of Rhodes' usual refusal to comment on pending legislation.

In the House, Rep. Sam Speck, R-95 New Concord, said promises of cooperation from Democrats in reaching a compromise version have fallen through.

Speck tried to offer 15 technical amendments dealing with bonding power while the bill was in committee. But the bill was voted upon before he could offer them.

He said indications Democrats might budge on the makeup of the board also proved fruitless, and Democrats have not talked to him about possible compromise since the bill left committee.

"I will be meeting with the Republican leadership on the bill"

2 Women Again Give Communion

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Two women continued to make themselves what one of them called "fools for Christ," concelebrating communion Sunday in the face of Episcopal Church action against the male priest who invited them.

The Revs. Alison Cheek of Annadale, Va., and Carter Heyward of New York City conducted what was the eighth such service by one or both of them in Christ's Episcopal Church.

The decision to go ahead came Saturday, one day after the 30-year-old pastor of the church, the Rev. L. Peter Beebe, was found guilty of breaking his priestly vows and church laws by having invited them for the first service, last Dec. 8.

The court of five fellow priests recommended that the Rt. Rev. John H. Burt, bishop of the church's Ohio Diocese, admonish the minister to stop the practice. If the Rev. Mr. Beebe disobeyed that "godly admonition" as he had the earlier one, the court recommended that he be suspended from the priesthood.

Moments after the verdict, the minister told newsmen he would continue as before. It was a matter of conscience, he said. Sunday he said he had told Bishop Burt both orally and in writing that "this is going to continue on."

before the vote, Speck said.

The bill needs 66 votes to pass as an emergency measure, Democrats have 59 seats in the House, so they would need the support of seven Republican legislators to pass the bill as an emergency measure.

The proposed agency would be the coordinating body in Ohio for energy

Appalachian Panel Shows Strains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal-state partnership that is the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) is showing some signs of a simmering strain on its 10th anniversary.

Supporters of the povertyfighting commission point out that the percentage of the Appalachian population at the poverty level has dropped from 31 to 18 per cent and per capita incomes have climbed from 78 to 81 per cent of the national average since 1961.

Critics attack the structure of the organization and the lack of interest shown by the commission's 13 Appalachian state governors.

The Senate Public Works Committee is expected to take final action this week on a House-passed bill to extend the commission for another four years. It expires June 30 unless Congress renews it.

The act also authorizes $300 million for the ARC for the coming fiscal year. In past years, funding for the commission has brought little debate. This year, although Public Works Chairman Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., predicts passage, it will not come without questions.

The commission, which oversees economic development along the rim of the Appalachian Mountains from southern New York through northern Mississippi, was founded in 1965 following a suggestion by President John F. Kennedy.

The act said the commission would be administered jointly by a federal cochairman and a states' cochairman chosen by the 13 governors from their own rank.

But since the governors could not devote full time to the ARC, they decided to name a representative, John D. Whisman, who has been with the program since the beginning, despite his post not being mentioned in the 1965 act.

And he and the federal cochairman, Donald W. Whitehead, cannot agree who should run the commission. At a meeting of the full commission last week, both men presented their cases.

Whitehead said the friction between the two "makes operations of the commission on a day-to-day basis extremely awkward and difficult" and prevents the ARC from effectively bringing innovative programs to the region.

"We spend too much time on minutia, not enough on the big issues," he said. "For example, we have been unable to come forward with a concrete plan for the black lung program or for rural health care. We've been grinding out routine programs instead."

He emphasized that the ARC should be meeting the opportunity presented to the area by the resurgence of coal as an energy source.

Whitehead says Whisman exercises too much authority in his unwritten role. Whisman counters that he is needed to keep the commission from becoming just another federal bureaucracy.

"The only problem between us is whether I have a right to be here at all," Whisman said. "The tension is there. It is not going to go away."

Both Whitehead and Whisman presented resolutions to the commission to define their own roles at the expense of the other's. But the governors referred the matter to a committee that will make a recommendation this summer.

The governors, naturally, hesitate to diminish their own role — and that

Corporate Execs Probed By IRS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tax agents are sifting through the returns of hundreds of the nation's top corporate officers to see if they made illegal campaign donations.

The special project has the Internal Revenue Service comparing the returns of corporate officers and their companies to see if the officers' political donations were reimbursed illegally through phony expense accounts, bonuses, travel vouchers or other corporate payments.

The study, called the Campaign Contribution Compliance Project, has recently been expanded to cover foreign bribes and payoffs by U.S.-based companies.

It is illegal for corporations to claim tax deductions for unlawful campaign gifts or for payments to foreign officials that would have been illegal if made in the United States, such as bribes or kickbacks.

The Securities and Exchange Commission recently began an investigation of the 25 largest defense contractors to determine whether those companies have made bribes or other improper payments to government officials in the United States or abroad.

A classified Pentagon report made public over the weekend said U.S. military equipment manufacturers paid some $200 million to sales agents in foreign countries over the past 2½ years.

Mock State Governments Wind Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Buckeye Girls and Boys States wound up their weeklong mock state government seminars this past weekend with selection of representatives to the workshops' national counterparts.

Two central Ohio girls, Kimberley Kish of Westerville and Sally Dempsey of Columbus, were chosen by the 1,271 Girls State delegates to attend Girls Nation in Washington D.C. next month.

Miss Kish served as governor of Girls' State; Miss Dempsey was chairman of the Nationalist party.

Meanwhile in Athens, graduation ceremonies Sunday closed the 38th annual Boys State held at Ohio University.

The 1,373 high school delegates approved legislation changing the age of majority to 18, making the 55 mile per hour speed limit permanent, and establishing a five-member medical board to examine all malpractice claimants.

Mike Simens of Euclid, speaker of the Boys State House of Representatives and Ed Buns of Mason, Senate minority leader, will attend Boys Nation in Washington next month.

Department.

Legislative leaders also have pressed committee chairman to speed hearings on major legislation, including medical malpractice insurance reforms, collective bargaining for public employees, probate court revision and a major revision of drug abuse laws.

do not want to see that partnership destroyed."

Randolph agreed. "I would hope that personalities are not going to lessen the effectiveness of the commission. I do not want to see a crippling of this program in any fashion."

As part of the IRS probe, agents in field offices are being supplemented by about 300 agents in the Washington headquarters, including computer experts, engineers, economists and others.

Assistant IRS Commissioner Singleton B. Wolfe said in an interview that the compliance project centers on an examination of the returns of the top dozen or so officers of about 50 corporations, where some officials are known to have made political donations.

So far only one tax fraud case has stemmed from investigations of political donations. Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. and two former top officers pleaded innocent to federal charges that they conspired to

Disputes Hamper Congressional Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate dispute over last November's New Hampshire election continues this week while the House tries to override President Ford's expected veto of a housing bill.

The Senate votes Tuesday on whether to limit debate on the New Hampshire election. The dispute threatens to shorten or eliminate a 10-day July 4 recess scheduled to start at the end of the week.

House leaders, meanwhile, have scheduled an effort Wednesday to override the expected housing-bill veto in the latest test of a presidential-congressional battle that Ford has dominated so far.

In three previous tests, the House has failed to override vetoes of bills dealing with farm matters, jobs and strip mining.

Ford is expected to veto the housing bill today or Tuesday on the ground it is too costly and would hinder the administration's efforts to keep the budget deficit at $60 billion. Supporters of the measure claim it would spur housing construction and prevent foreclosures by offering mortgage interest subsidies to middle-income home buyers and loans of $250 a month to jobless home owners who face foreclosures.

Several other measures, meanwhile, must be passed by June 30, including the measure increasing the legal limit

The General Assembly has completed its major task of the year, passing the state's two-year operating budget. That $10.6 billion bill was sent to Rhodes last week.

The legislature is aiming for a week's recess over the Fourth of July, then finishing its year's business by the end of July.

Disputes Hamper Congressional Plans

commit fraud by deducting $634,000 in political funds.

One well-informed source said another case involving a major corporation is being readied for presentation to a federal grand jury.

Companies known to be under IRS investigation include United Brands Co., Gulf Oil Corp., Northrop Corp., Ashland Oil Inc. and Phillips Petroleum.

IRS Commissioner Donald Alexander, in a letter to Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said Gulf and United Brands fall under the campaign project. Vanik, head of a new subcommittee investigating IRS policies, had asked whether the IRS was looking into admissions by Gulf and United Brands that they made payoffs to foreign officials.

House action is scheduled Tuesday. Congress has already sent to the White House a bill providing continuing funds for federal agencies for the new fiscal year starting July 1. None of the regular appropriation bills has been passed.

However, the stopgap funding measure includes some of the job-creating programs contained in a $5.3 billion measure that Ford vetoed earlier, raising a question as to whether he will accept this bill.

Senate action on the debt ceiling and any other "must" bills that come along will have to be sandwiched in around the continuing New Hampshire debate.

In seeking to determine whether Republican Louis C. Wyman or Democrat John A. Durkin won the Nov. 5 election, the Senate Rules Committee has asked the full Senate to decide 35 questions on which it deadlocked.

However, the eight days of debate so far have seen the Senate's Republican minority refuse to agree to time limitations while pushing proposals to expand the committee's inquiry or declare the seat vacant so a new election can be held.

An unusual Saturday session ended abruptly in midafternoon when three straight votes failed to produce the quorum of 50 members needed to do business. The Senate then adjourned until today on a 42-7 vote.

But, Timmy's cells and tissues "were the closest match the doctors said they had ever seen," Mrs. Kelly said.

"We read about a Nashville girl in the Reader's Digest who had it (the operation). They said she is doing fine now," Mrs. Kelly said.

The girl, Linda Honicker, received bone marrow from her brother at the same Seattle hospital and apparently has recovered completely.

The operation would mean Jan would be in the hospital six months and Timmy to be there one month. Blood and marrow are extracted from eight places in the pelvic bone of the donor, filtered and infused into one of recipient's veins.

Medical bills already have taxed the family's resources. Jan's husband has deferred his plans of college and veterinary medicine.

"We have all tried to help, but we just can't keep the bills paid up. We couldn't have made it this far" without help from others, Mrs. Kelly said.

The Grays Creek Church has established a Jan Kelly House Fund at the Hernando Bank to receive contributions to help with the bills.

Mrs. Kelly said Timmy is ready to go.

"He'll be 7 on July 10. He's so young, he is in a hurry. He wants to go and help Jan and get it over with."

Testimony Tells Of Taunts

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A former student who taunted Ohio National Guardsmen with a black flag takes the witness stand again today as victims of the 1970 Kent State University shootings press claims for $46 million in damages.

Alan Canfora, one of nine students wounded in a clash with guardsmen May 4, 1970, began his testimony Thursday, just before court recessed for the weekend.

In an apparent effort to head off a probable attack on cross examination, Canfora admitted at the beginning of his testimony that he had pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana in December 1970. He said he served two years probation.

Earlier Thursday, it was learned the 26-year-old Barberton resident had been the roommate of another student injured in the 13-second volley from guard rifles firing down a campus slope.

Gangster Summoned By Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Roselli, a West Coast underworld figure and associate of slain Chicago mobster Sam Giancana in a reputed plot against Fidel Castro, is being called before the Senate intelligence committee.

Roselli, who is appearing in response to a subpoena, is expected to be quizzed about reports that he and Giancana were approached on behalf of the CIA to arrange for Mafia members to assassinate Castro.

Giancana, who also had been expected to testify, was shot to death in his home in a Chicago suburb last week.

Also expected to testify is William K. Harvey, a former CIA official who reliable sources have said was involved in plots to kill Castro.

This week's edition of Time magazine said CIA officials began exploring the possibility of killing Castro in the spring of 1960 when suggestions were put forth that Castro's food or cigars be poisoned.

According to the Time account, Giancana and Roselli were approached to find a man in Havana to liquidate Castro. The two Americans, who were hoping to escape prosecution by the Justice Department, in turn recruited a gangster with access to Castro.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market stood about even today, recovering from some mild early declines.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down .062 at $54.82 at noon after being down about 4 points at midmorning. Losers and gainers were about even on the New York Stock Exchange.

The early weakness was ascribed to concern over the upturn in short term interest rates that began on Friday with a push from operations in the money market by the Federal Reserve. But there also appeared to be a continuing undercurrent of optimism over prospects for an economic recovery.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .07 at 91.01.

In the economic news over the weekend, Alan Greenspan, the chief economic adviser to President Ford, said the economy's progress toward a rebound was a little ahead of where he would have expected it to be at present.

The NYSE's composite index showed a .07 gain at 49.46.

Medium-Sized Frog Biggest Jumper

POMEROY, Ohio (AP) — A medium-sized bullfrog named Mike won the Ohio State Championship Frog Jump at the Big Bend Regatta on Saturday with leaps totaling 15 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Mike's jump was nearly four feet short of the world frog jumping record, but still sufficient to net a $500 first prize for owner John Young of Racine, Ohio.

Young, who caught Mike in a pond on his farm and named it after his grandson, said the triumphant frog will not be domesticated or eaten. "I'm going to put him right back where he belongs — in the pond," he said.

The jumping meet and accompanying Frog Derby highlighted activity at the regatta, with frogs brought in buckets, bags and shoeboxes. Anyone without a contestant could rent one for 50 cents.

Owners from throughout southern Ohio stamped, shouted, puffed and pleaded with their recalcitrant charges as hundreds looked on.

The annual contest drew more than 200 entrants. Each had 15 seconds and three jumps to coax the greatest

Central U.S. Under Band Of Rainfall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms persisted from Colorado to Texas and in the middle Mississippi Valley today.

A band of thunderstorms rolled over eastern Colorado and western Kansas and extended into eastern New Mexico and west central Texas. Other storms stretched from southeastern Missouri, across Illinois into Indiana.

Tornados touched down in the suburbs of Chicago Sunday night. No one was reported injured, but property damage was extensive with houses and automobiles damaged and power lines snapped.

Weekend Accidents Injure 3

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated three weekend accidents injuring three persons.

Twenty-three-year-old Merle R. Valentine, Lancaster, was cited for failure to yield the right of way when he was involved in a two-car accident, 2:25 p.m. Saturday.

According to the report taken by Deputy Philip Brown and Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, Valentine heeded to a stop sign at the intersection of Route 56 and Circleville-Tarleton Road.

Proceeding into the intersection, Valentine pulled into the path of a car driven by Larry A. Payne, 20 Route 1, Laurelville.

The Valentine auto was struck in the right side by Payne's vehicle.

Deputy Borwn referred Linda K. Payne, 20, Laurelville, passenger in the Payne vehicle, to a doctor for bruised knees. Gertrude E. Valentine, 57, Laurelville, passenger in the Valentine vehicle, was treated and released at Berger Hospital for back injuries and bump on the head.

A passenger in a car driven by Gerard J. Falter, 21, Columbus, was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital for injuries sustained in a two-car accident, 4:50 p.m. Sunday.

Debra S. Bannon, 19, Columbus, was treated for a head laceration.

Michael W. Collins, 17, Washington C.H. was eastbound on the Crownover-Mill Road when he hit a 5-inch chuckhole in the road. Collins lost control of the auto traveled left of center and turned around before striking the Falter auto.

Deputy James Leaker investigated the accident.

Sheriff's Deputy Nick Franklin is continuing the investigation of a motorcycle accident which occurred 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Eighteen-year-old Michael Reed, Ashville, was on his brothers cycle traveling on Griggs Street in Ashville. Unfamiliar with the operation of the cycle, Reed accelerated and lost control of the vehicle striking a building.

Reed sustained a cut middle finger.

Vandals Litter Swimming Pool

Vandals dumped beer bottles, lawn chairs, and other items into the Plaza Apartment swimming pool Friday night or Saturday morning, Circleville police say.

The incident was reported to Police by Bill Stout, 435 Holiday Lane, who said the pool had been littered in a similar manner in the past.

Robert Wolf, 510 N. Pickaway St., told police that thieves took four hubcaps from his 1967 model Corvette that was parked in front of his house Saturday. The hubcaps are valued at $58.40.

Thieves took 27 eight-track tapes and a tape case from a car owned by Kevin Wood, 603 Guilford Rd. The tapes, taken while the car was parked in front of the house, are valued at $172.

A mechanic working on the brakes of a car owned by Zelma Lemaster, 214 Huston St., reported that one of the tires on the car had been slashed with a sharp object.

Promoting Tourism

Why is it that the nation most generally held to possess the most beautifully varied natural and man-made attractions in the world consistently runs a tourist deficit, with more of its people leaving on trips to other lands than come in from abroad?

This is the dilemma confronting the United States. For reasons which are only partly understood, more Americans go abroad and spend more money there than do visitors to these shores.

For years the disparity in tourist import and export has been explained as due to differences in spendable income, with citizens of the United States holding an edge. But for a long time Western Europe and other areas of the world have been enjoying high levels of prosperity, current worldwide economic conditions notwithstanding. People from those regions are coming to the U.S. in increasing numbers, but still fall far short of matching the growing U.S. exodus.

Geography also plays a part in tourism meccas, although the disadvantage of distance continues to decline with improvements in jet transport. The concentration of different nationalities in a relatively small area throughout Western Europe does offer a magnetic attraction to tourists.

Europeans travel from one continental country to another about as easily as Americans go from one state to another.

One way to improve tourism is to reduce annoyances visitors may notice but residents seldom see. To a tourist they may be what he remembers longest. Looking at America from the viewpoint of a tourist is a good way to correct the things which prevent him from coming back—and bringing others along.

Medical Care Costs

By JIM BISHOP

Bad word: malpractice. The current contretemps between doctors and insurance companies will, if not settled by government intervention, mean another hike in the cost of day-to-day medical care.

No matter how high the premiums, you may be sure the doctors will not pay it. The patient will. American physicians represent the highest professional income per capita in the world. Public sympathy is not with the doctors, nor is it with the few insurance companies who write of the medical insurance.

A few weeks ago a New York obstetrician learned that a patient who lost a baby was suing for $350 million. In our democracy, anyone may abuse the courts by suing anyone for any amount, no matter how outrageous the charge. It's part of our system.

The word malpractice is defined as: "Failure of a professional person to render proper services through reprehensible ignorance or through criminal intent, especially when injury or loss follows."

It is rare for a physician to be charged with "criminal intent," so we are left with "reprehensible ignorance." This can mean that the doctor sat beside his patient all day. Exhausted, he went home. The patient expired an hour later. The patient might not have died if the doctor had been there.

Lawyers who specialize in negligence cases grow rich. Most will take a good case or even a fair one without fee, agreeing the plaintiff to take a third of a jury award, or half. It's a form of unrefined gambling.

These lawyers have discovered something startling and pleasant in our courts. Juries don't give a damn how much of someone else's money they award; secondly, judges no longer cut the awards to a reasonable amount. It's not their money.

In many states, the judge is permitted to trim half-million dollar awards to a reasonable amount. Or, in certain cases, to award additional sums. For example, a man of 50 has a life expectancy of about 25 years. If he earns $10,000 a year, he is entitled — if permanently disabled — to 25 times $10,000 — $250,000. The judge may, at his discretion, add another $50,000 as punitive damages against the doctor.

Juries make huge awards because they are convinced that none of the money will come from the doctor's pocket — it's called "insurance money." However, in New York State 2,085 suits against doctors reached court. Of these, 1,467 (or 70 per cent) were awarded nothing.

The four highest awards were each over $300,000. Averaging all awards, the amount is $23,400. It isn't high, but it caused Argonaut Insurance Company to propose a hike in premiums of almost 200 per cent.

Employers Insurance of Wausau demanded, and got, more than $14,000 a year in premiums from some physicians for $1 million in insurance. Something is awry about the hike in premiums. In eight years, Wausau collected $159,600,000 in premiums from New York State doctors, paid out only $55,140,000 in claims. However, these figures do not necessarily indicate profit on this insurance.

Anesthesiologists from coast to coast went on strike. Surgeons refused to operate unless the case was in urgent need of surgery. The New York State Medical Association plans to start its own insurance company. It needs $20 million in capital and, wouldn't you know, a 15 per cent hike in premiums from its doctors.

Busy Woman Tries To Bring Fine Arts Building To Town

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — This Greene County town has something like 5,000 residents, one of whom is Shirley Mullins, who has to count as several.

She's a concert cellist, a halftime music teacher in Yellow Springs public schools working full-time at the job, overseer of the music education of her four children, a private music teacher, teacher at university level and baker of her own bread.

Besides that, she has just adopted a new project — getting this college town a fine arts building.

"I'm working on another project," she said, blithely announcing her latest mission. "This town has to have a fine arts building. The college hall is too small. The high school gym echoes."

Now there are those who hail this as a mission impossible.

"Impossible?" asked Mrs. Mullins. "Like they did with the swimming pool and the library, somebody had to start somewhere. Just watch. I give it five years."

Now and again, Mrs. Mullins has time for near-miracles, like starting from scratch 10 years ago and creating three orchestras — a youth orchestra of 25, a chamber orchestra of 35 and a full high school orchestra of 67 with winds from the band added, plus half a dozen smaller string groups.

Good? They record, and only three high school orchestras qualified to play at the Ohio Music Educators convention in Cincinnati last winter. Yellow Springs was there.

She pushes public performances. The youths do 40-50 a year, everything from local sidewalk sales and musicals for the Senior Citizens to big concerts, in and out of town.

They rehearse daily. And, Mrs. Mullins lets nothing intrude on "the one beautiful hour a day that we have together." And, they aren't rehearsing watered-down scores, either.

Ailing students who've missed all other classes have been known to totter to school for her rehearsals with fevers of 103.

"That's because Shirley's not only a pro herself, she treats all ages as real professionals," said an orchestra parent. "The kids respond by striving for an excellence, a mastery, we know they can't possibly achieve."

"Except they surprise us. Somehow, under her spell, they do." Robert Cowden, director of the Cincinnati Youth Symphony, visited a recent rehearsal. His face mirrored both delight and annoyance as the hour progressed.

The students called the conductor by her first name. They criticized each other and her. After a vain attempt to iron the fuzz out of a turn in the Bach Triple Concerto, Mrs. Mullins said, "I can't rehearse you enough on this. You'll have to get together on your own."

Cowden went up to the Yellow Springs maestro. "They way you run an orchestra," he said, "is completely antithetical to everything I tell my students. But, obviously it works."

But, would those students rehearse that Bach Triple Concerto on their own?

"Of course they will," Mrs. Mullins said. "They're incredible. With them, music is king."

Toledo Soldier Dies In Kansas

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — The Riley County Police Department has identified the soldier who drowned Saturday in the Tuttle Creek Reservoir as Michael E. Armstrong, 20, Toledo, Ohio.

Police said he was swimming when a thunderstorm rolled over the lake about 5 p.m. He reportedly went under while attempting to hurry back to a swimming dock.

His body was recovered by police and the local rescue squad.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, June 23, the 174th day of 1975. There are 191 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1683, William Penn signed a friendship treaty with Indians in the Pennsylvania region. The agreement was faithfully kept by both sides for more than 60 years.

On this date: In 1722, England's queen ordered the French people in Nova Scotia to take an oath of allegiance to her government within one year or leave.

In 1836, there was a surplus in the U.S. Treasury, and the $28 million was divided among 26 states.

Ten years ago: Democratic Senator Robert Kennedy of New York urged President Lyndon Johnson to give top priority to working out a treaty that would halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Five years ago: In Tokyo, Japanese students armed with firebombs and bamboo sticks clashed with police in a huge demonstration against continuing the U.S.-Japan security pact.

One year ago: Disengagement in the Mideast moved ahead as Israel withdrew from the last remaining section of land captured from Syria in the October War.

Today's birthdays: Former Secretary of State William Rogers is 62. Former baseball star Don Drysdale is 39. Actor and Director Bob Fosse is 48.

Thought for today: Better to wear out than to rust out — Richard Cumberland, English philosopher, 1631-1718.

Bicentennial footnote: It was 200 years ago today that George Washington left Philadelphia for the Boston area to take command of American military forces early in the Revolutionary War.

25 YEARS AGO

Pickaway County's long awaited Memorial Lake and Park was scheduled to receive its first trickle of water in July. Officials of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company announced they had received permission to replace one of Circleville's main gas lines which was within part of the Memorial Lake area outside the construction zone.

With the ruling in the Ohio Appellate Court that traffic signs not conforming to a 1941 law were illegal, Circleville City Councilmen approved the purchase of 85 new signs with letters eight inches tall instead of the five inch lettered signs that were being used at the time.

Three of the 10 proposed production lines were rolling in the new Circleville General Electric lamp plant. The fourth production line was expected to get underway later in the year.

Sixty-four year old Thad Hill of Stoutsville was freed from a ditch that caved in on him on N. Court St. Hill, working on a gas line, was in the ditch when vibrations from the traffic on the street caused the sides of the ditch to fall in, pinning him beneath steel pilings which had been erected at the sides of the ditch. He was uninjured.

"Gee, aren't you going to leave ANYTHING for posterity?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester I. Coleman, M.D.

My underarm perspiration is so profuse, even in winter, that it is ruining my life. My husband and my friends don't understand how embarrassing that is. They think that I'm overemphasizing its importance. They won't believe how this condition can affect every part of my social life. I've tried sprays, creams, lotions, drugs. Nothing helps. I'm at my wit's end.

Mrs. G. L. W., Ohio

Dear Mrs. W.:

Only those who have had such difficulty can appreciate the esthetic, the physical and the emotional problems of profuse perspiration.

The discomfort of being wringing wet, even in cold weather, and the constant awareness of the disorder can truly interfere with the joys of all social pleasures.

It has long been known that the sweat glands responsible for perspiration were concentrated in a small area high in the armpit.

About 15 years ago, a group of doctors described an operation that satisfactorily controlled this condition, known as "hyperhidrosis."

Now, a group of doctors in Copenhagen is performing this operation and has recorded remarkably successful results in the control of this most distressing symptom.

Dr. Erling Bo Andersen and a group of co-workers in Copenhagen have operated on almost 300 cases of hyperhidrosis. Both men and women were involved in this study. Most were between 20 and 45.

The operation is not dangerous. Surgeons specially trained in this technique can, I am sure, be found in major hospitals in the United States.

It may seem that an operation for the purpose of controlling perspiration is too radical a procedure. Readers must understand that this operation is reserved for uncontrollable perspiration that in no way resembles the moderate perspiration that most people have and which is so easily controlled with a variety of products.

Speak to your doctor about this. If he believes that you are a candidate for such surgery, he will help find the surgeon to perform it.

Woman Produces, Directs 'Flying'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Said Julia Phillips to the Columbia Pictures brass: "I would like to propose an idea whose time has come — me."

She was making a bold proposal: that she direct as well as produce the film version of Erica Jong's sensational novel, "Fear of Flying."

Only a handful of women, notably Dorothy Arzner, Ida Lupino and Elaine May, have succeeded as directors of American movies.

Mrs. Phillips recalled the reaction over lunch by Columbia Pictures president David Begelman: "After compulsively consuming 14 rolls, he agreed that it might be a good idea."

She discussed the new adventure at her Benedict Canyon home where she was pausing briefly from preparation of six films.

On the hearth was the Oscar she won for coproducing "The Sting" with her estranged husband, Michael, and Tony Bill.

"Some people are saying that I had it in mind all along to direct 'Fear of Flying,'" said Mrs. Phillips, a plain-talking, curly haired woman of 30. "Not true. I certainly would prefer to direct something smaller for my first picture."

"Do I have any qualms? No — but a lot of anxiety. Let's say I'm confident — and scared witless."

Born Julia Miller in New York, she majored in political science at Mount Holyoke College but her major interest was in writing a novel and short stories.

She met and married a Dartmouth student, Michael Phillips, and helped put him through NYU Law School by publishing jobs.

She moved into work for film companies, and the Phillipses and Bill produced "Steelyard Blues" for Warner Bros. It was a bomb. Their next film wasn't.

"The Sting" made millions for everyone. The marriage ended, but the partnership remains.

Why haven't more women directed movies?

"Maybe because they haven't been given the opportunity," Mrs. Phillips says. "It is difficult for women to get the chance, and I don't delude myself into thinking that I was chosen because of my inherent talent."

"I got the job because I happen to be the owner of a very hot property." The continuing success of "Fear of Flying" has overcome the doubts Columbia once had about the property. Book sales have hit 3½ million, with 5 million expected.

Mrs. Jong's tale of a New York girl's search for self has evoked controversy over its sex and language ("How can a woman write like that!").

Said Mrs. Phillips: "I don't anticipate making a pornographic film. Sex is organic to 'Fear of Flying,' but I hope to show the humor of it, too. And I'd like the picture to look as elegant as Paris and Vienna can look."

"I see the main character as an articulate, brazen, quaking-in-side heroine. The story is more 'Tom Jones' than 'Last Tango in Paris.'"

Israeli Stand Stays Same

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Israel's ambassador to the United States Sunday reiterated his country's position that a peace settlement in the Middle East is contingent on an Arab promise to end their state of "belligerency."

Simcha Dinitz said if such a promise were made Israel would agree to give up territory it captured during wars with Arab countries.

The ambassador noted that there are "some signs that after a quarter of a century of war and hostility, Egypt is prepared to test another road. We don't know how consistent that road will be or how stable that regime will be."

Dinitz gave his views before attending a dinner here honoring Jackie Presser, Cleveland Teamster leader, for his work in selling Israeli bonds.

The diplomat also said that America's recent experience in the Far East has made the U.S. "more choosy but no less committed" in support of its allies.

2 Men Sought In Assault Case

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Highway Patrol helicopter plus local police and sheriff's deputies were searching Sunday for two of five men who allegedly took part in an assault on an Ashland County deputy early Sunday.

Ashland County sheriff's deputies said the incident occurred on Ohio 97 near the Ashland-Richland County line in the Mohican State Park area.

Deputy John Gisclon reportedly stopped a car for littering violation. An argument followed and Gisclon allegedly was attacked and had his gun taken, a spokesman said.

The deputy was in satisfactory condition in Mansfield General Hospital, a hospital spokesman said. Deputies were questioning three of the five men reportedly involved and were seeking the remaining two, who fled on foot.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE—No matter how many times one has seen the epic outdoor historical drama, "Tecumseh" he or she never fails to be impressed by the final scene when the body of the dead Indian warrior is carried off for burial. The drama plays every night except Monday.

Two Girls Attend Ohio Forestry Camp

Donna Milburn and Patty Derflinger have recently represented their 4-H clubs at the Ohio Forestry Camp. Donna is the daughter of Robert Milburn, 323 Meadow Lane, and Patty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Derflinger, Route 2, Ashville.

DONNA MILBURN

The camp, which is held at Camp Ohio, is conducted by the Ohio Forestry Association. Youth from all over Ohio attend the camp each year to learn an appreciation for the forests and wood products.

PATTY DERFLINGER

The Pickaway County representatives were selected on the basis of participation and leadership in both 4-H and community activities. Selection is made by the 4-H Awards Committee.

Donna and Patty were sponsored to the camp by Cole Nursery, the Circleville Kiwanis and L. M. Butch Company.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Separate The Wet From The Dry

DEAR ABBY: You besmirched the image of pigs and hogs when you wrote: "The person who hogs the conversation is no less a pig than the person who comes to the table and eats all the food."

Abby, you infer that pigs and hogs are greedy. They are not! If these little four-footed creatures were fed balanced rations, they would not overeat! That point has been proven through research at many universities.

It's fact that most affluent people eat themselves out of shape. So why downgrade pigs and hogs when people, who are supposed to be more intelligent than pigs, are guilty of the same thing?

If you want to emphasize greediness in people, instead of calling them "hogish," why not say "peoplish"?

G. B. PHILLIPS:
HEADLAND, ALA.
DEAR MR. P.: I plead guilty to perpetuating the prejudicial notion that pigs and hogs are greedy. And I hope that every pig and hog who reads this will forgive me.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling "Made My Plans" that you, too, carry a card stating that your eyes and kidneys shall be donated immediately on your demise.

If in death, a person can give life or improve life of another, his existence was all the more valuable.

Visiting a cemetery may help purge the living of their own guilt. But when I am gone, I plan to spare my family those dreary trips to the cemetery to weep over my decaying remains.

Let them remember me by keeping in touch with their new friends who now see through my corneas and live an active life with my kidneys.

Life doesn't end with death. And yes, you may use my real name.

SANDRA KLORES, N.Y.C.
DEAR SANDRA: God is blessing you now.

DEAR ABBY: I am a smoker. I know all the hazards, but I enjoy smoking and will not give it up. I resent all the reformed smokers who have quit for whatever reason and preach to me to quit smoking.

I respect all the "No Smoking" signs. I do not smoke while I am in an automobile with others. I smoke in my office, my home, or with friends.

I do not drink. I hate heavy drinkers and detest drunks, yet I am constantly exposed to drunks. On a long plane ride, for instance, I sat next to a woman who drank all the way. She was so loaded when we landed that she had to be helped from the plane.

Bars, restaurants, theaters, etc., serve liquor, but they want to put up "No Smoking" signs.

I protest!
I would like to see every eating place with a "No Smoking" sign stop serving drinks and beer so I won't have to be around drunks. Also, airlines should have a separate section for drinkers, just as they do for smokers.

I am not asking people to stop drinking; I'm just asking that the drinkers drink with each other and leave us sober people alone.

MRS. T.S.
DEAR MRS. T.S.: You make a valid point. But while obnoxious drunks are no pleasure to encounter, they do no violence to your lungs and the environment. Smokers do.

YES, YOU CAN.

Enjoy yourself at home this summer.

Add Lennox central air conditioning to your heating system. Efficient performance. Lasting dependability. Excellent service. Enjoyably cool comfort. Summer can be a great time. Even at home. With Lennox central air conditioning. Call us. We'll help solve your comfort problems.

The Circleville Herald, Monday June 23, 1975 Roper Corp. Shuts Division Office

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Roper Corp., plagued with financial woes, is shutting down its divisional headquarters here, according to Roper President C. M. Hoover.

Hoover said the decision to shut down was a result of a combination of the fluctuating economy, stiffer market competition and rising production cost.

Closing effects some 500 plant and 154 office personnel in Newark, he said. Newark's production will be spread among other 20 existing plants in the country.

Roper makes rotary mowers and aluminum gas and electric patio grills.

North Canton Crash Kills Power

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Some 1,300 residents of North Canton were without power early Sunday after a hit-skip motorist rammed into a power pole, North Canton police said.

Power was restored to the area about mid morning, an Ohio Power Co. spokesman said.

Miss Brenda Kay Bidwell, David B. Lehman Are Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

MRS. DAVID B. LEHMAN

The wedding of Miss Brenda Kay Bidwell and Mr. David B. Lehman took place 2:30 p.m., June 21st, in Faith Baptist Church of Commercial Point. Pastor Gary Hohman officiated the double ring candlelight ceremony before the altar adorned with vases of mixed flowers and flanked with candelabra. Greenery was entwined at the sides of the kneeling bench.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Ross Bidwell, Route 2, Orient, and the bridegrooms parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lehman, Middleton, Wis.

A program of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony was presented by Mrs. Linda Hamilton, organist, Mrs. Margaret Birchwell, pianist, and Mrs. Helen Hancock, vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in an ivory silk organza and peau d'ange, and Irish cluny lace floor length gown. The bodice featured a deep square yoke of peau d'ange outlined with cluny lace. The natural waistline was outlined with lace and lace appliques accented the bishop sleeves ending with lace cuffs. The A-line skirt with detailed peau d'ange appliques was enhanced with a deep double border of layers of lace which flowed to the back around the chapel length train and returned to the waistline. In the center back panel peau d'ange appliques embellished the waistline.

Completing the look was a matching floor length mantilla edged with cluny lace which also formed the headpiece. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath. Her only jewelry was a heart shaped diamond necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor, Miss Mary Graham, was attired in a long print dress with aqua, green and purple flowers, featuring short puffed sleeves. Miss Susie Lehman and Miss Kimberly Bidwell were bridesmaids, gowned identically to the honor attendant. They all carried bouquets of antique gold, aqua and white carnations encircling hurricane lanterns.

Miss Jennifer Grove was flower girl and Master Matthew Hohman was ring bearer.

Mr. Bill Tully served as best man and Mr. Ernest Lehman Jr. and Mr. Ken Bidwell were ushers.

Pickaway Senior Center Members Attend Ball Game

Forty-three members of Pickaway Senior Center were among the 33,611 present at Riverfront Stadium in Cincinnati on Wednesday to see the Cincinnati Reds beat Atlanta 6 to 1. It was one of the several special Senior Citizen Days during the season. The name of each group attending was put up in lights on the bulletin board.

The Pickaway County group left the Center at 9 a.m. in a Greyhound Bus with a driver who had recently moved here from Atlanta. A lunch stop was made at the King's Inn parking lot on the way to Cincinnati, where everyone ate the sack lunches they had brought, and got out to walk around. Supper was eaten at Duff's Smorgasbord in South Lebanon en route home, arriving back at the Center at 6:30 p.m. Another similar Senior Citizens Day will be July 31st with the game beginning at 7 p.m. this time. Supper will be at the same place, only on the way to the game. The group will be leaving from the Lutheran Church parking lot at the corner of E. Mound and S. Pickaway Sts. Anyone wishing to go on this trip may make reservations anytime. Reservations must be accompanied by full cost.

Those making the June 18th trip were: Margaret Ater, Randolph Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Turney Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wolford, Mr. and Mrs.

Senior Citizens To Meet Thursday At Lutheran Church

Thursday has been selected for the all day meeting of Pickaway Senior Center members in the Parish Hall of Trinity Lutheran Church, 135 E. Mound St.

Morning activities will begin at 10 and blood pressures will be checked between then and noon when a carry-in dinner will be served. Members are to bring one item of food and their own table service.

Speaker for the afternoon will be Dr. W. L. Sprouse using as his topic "Those Were The Days." Guests are welcome. For more information call 474-4916.

Clean energy for tomorrow ...gas from coal.

There is enough coal in the ground to last for centuries. But, with our striving for a cleaner environment, much of it can't be used.

Columbia Gas is working on processes that will convert this coal into clean-burning gas. In cooperation with the government, and independently, Columbia is moving ahead in coal gasification research. Experimental plants are in operation, and making progress.

The first commercial coal gasification plant is still far down the road, and it will be expensive. But, with the development of coal gasification, a whole new industry will be born, with jobs for thousands of people. And this new source for gas will help the nation reduce its growing dependence on foreign supplies of energy.

Coal gasification will mean more energy for tomorrow. And even with higher costs, gas will still be the most economical fuel for your home.

COLUMBIAGAS is doing something about the energy crisis.

Dick Boyd Superintendent At Lakewood

Dr. Richard A. Boyd, a former Circleville High School basketball coach and teacher, has been named superintendent of Lakewood schools near Cleveland.

Boyd is currently superintendent of Warren Board of Education and his contract at Warren expires July 31.

He has been at Warren since 1958 when he left Circleville to become the head basketball coach at Warren Harding High School. Since then he has had two leaves, one to complete his doctorate and the second to work for a state citizen's group and some foundations.

A native of Coshocton, he received his bachelor of science degree at Capital University and his master's degree at Ohio State. He was awarded his doctorate from the University of Akron in 1970.

Boyd was a teacher coach at Hardin from 1958 to 1964, assistant principal at Turner Junior High School until 1966 and assistant principal at Warren Western Reserve High School until 1968. He became superintendent of Warren schools in 1971.

He has been very active in civic and community affairs at Warren.

Schools Get State Money

Ohio's 614 school districts received a total of $41,912,591.40 in June from the State School Foundation subsidy fund. Of that figure, Pickaway County and Circleville Schools received $170,664.25.

Circleville City School District received $56,699.05; Logan Elm, $35,397.54; Teays Valley, $42,734.19; Westfall, $35,833.47.

The Pickaway County Board of Education received a direct allotment of $7,546.44, bringing the total amount paid the county board to $14,362.56.

Senior Center To Hold Card Party

Pickaway Senior Center will sponsor a card party 8 p.m. Tuesday at the L-K Restaurant banquet room.

NOTICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
Pursuant to the Motion of The Dayton Power and Light Company and Order of The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio dated February 20, 1975 in Case No. 73-166-Y, the Company hereby gives notice that on April 17, 1975, it filed with said Commission an Application for approval of Revised Rate Schedules for gas service to reflect the reduced volumes of natural gas available for sale by the Company. The Application proposes to increase the natural gas revenues of the Company by $4,857,610 annually by increasing the rate steps in all rates by a nominal 0.670¢ per CCF. No other changes in the rate schedules are contemplated under this Application. The prayer of the Application requests the Commission to authorize and approve the proposed revised Rate Sheets and substitute such sheets for those now in effect and to provide such other relief as may be proper.

A copy of said Application, including a copy of the present and proposed Rate Sheets, may be inspected by any interested party at the office of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, or at any public business office of the Company.

A public hearing on the Company's Application will be held on July 7, 1975 at the offices of the Commission, 111 N. High St., Columbus, Ohio beginning at 9:30 a.m. E.D.S.T.

The form of this Notice has been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Electronic Glasses Aid Deaf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Electronic eyeglasses to help the deaf hear are being developed by a team of Ohio State University scientists.

Spoken sounds are being converted into light signals and vibrations to augment lip-reading, said Dr. Herman R. Wood, director of the school's Biomedical Engineering Research Center.

"Certain kinds of sounds create particular patterns of light and particular patterns of vibrations," said Dr. Richard M. Campbell, assistant professor of electrical engineering.

The electronic eyeglasses will help distinguish types of sound that a lip-reader can't normally see, he said.

Weed and Campbell are coordinating the project. Weed said it needs another year of development and clinical evaluation. They plan to experiment with deaf students this fall.

Heart of the eyeglass system will be a microcomputer which translates sounds into visual and vibrational patterns. The miniature digital processor weighs from one to three pounds and is about the size of a pocket calculator. It will be hooked to the glasses by wires. The present experimental eyeglasses are hooked to a larger computer.

The processor will pick up sounds, converting some into vibrations on the inside of the eyeglass shafts and using others to activate eight small lights around the rims of the lens.

Weed said the glasses will enable deaf persons to keep track of speed, rhythm, pronunciation, loudness and inflection of their own speech, as well as others.

Weed said the glasses would be useful because the average lip-reader can pick up about 30 to 50 per cent of what is said, while exceptional readers may understand 90 to 95 per cent.

McAllen Retires From Glass Firm

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Donald K. McAllen has retired as vice president and secretary of Anchor Hocking Corp. He had been associated with the company for 36 years.

He is succeeded as secretary by Kenneth J. Burns Jr., who is also vice president and general counsel. Anchor Hocking produces consumer and institutional food service products.

With the new glasses, the researchers are hopeful the deaf will be able on average to understand 70 to 80 per cent.

"It will be a matter of impressions," said Dr. Weed. "The user obviously will have his eyes glued to the mouth of the person speaking. But, he or she will be able to pick up what lights are blinking in what quadrant, which will have a meaning. And, there will be vibrations giving clues, too."

Lens lights in the final product will be about .04 of an inch in diameter, much smaller than the lights being used for experimental purposes.

If successful, the electronic eyeglasses will be a definite breakthrough for the deaf, Campbell said. To be practical, he said, the market price of the glasses cannot exceed several hundred dollars.

SEOGA MEDALISTS—Steve Blowers (right) a member of Gallipolis Country Club, fired an 8-under par 36-hole total of 136 to gain medalist honors at the Southeastern Ohio Golf Assn. tournament held at Pickaway Country Club during the weekend. Bruce Helwagen of PCC was second with a 141 total. Marietta captured first place honors with a team score of 866 followed by PCC with an 884, Lancaster with 894, Gallipolis with 910, Ironton with 919, Athens and Cambridge with 927, Fairgreens with 934, Chillicothe with 939 and Hocking Hills with 944. Toby Offenberger of Marietta won the putting contest and Paul Ogilvie won the longest drive with a poke of 252 yards. Jim Stemble and Steve Helwagen were co-chairmen. Next year's tournament will be held at Athens.

Graham, Mahaffey In Golf Playoff

MEDINAH, Ill. (AP) — A pair of longshots, Lou Graham and John Mahaffey, meet in an 18-hole playoff today for the $40,000 prize in the 75th U.S. Open Golf Championship — the "chokers" or "snake-bit" open.

It has been a wild one. And none is more surprised at the windup perhaps than the playoff contenders themselves.

Graham, a drawing, stringbean tour veteran of 35, was the only person among the 25,145 on the Medinah Club premises who didn't know he had a chance to win outright by parring the final hole.

He dumped his approach shot into a trap and took a bogey.

Mahaffey, a young lion of 27 out of Houston, had finished 45 minutes earlier and had rushed to the club house to buy a candy bar and check on the airline reservations out of town.

He had to be searched out and informed that his 287 score, three over par, had tied the late-finishing Graham for first place and that he should be on the first tee today promptly at 1:30 p.m. CDT.

The playoff will be shown over national television (ABCTV). It's the first Open playoff since Lee Trevino beat Jack Nicklaus at Merion in Ardmore, Pa., in 1971.

Whatever became of that fellow, Nicklaus, anyhow? And Trevino? And Hale Irwin, who won last year? And Johnny Miller, the Pacific Coast hotshot? And long Tom Weiskopf, Arnold Palmer and South Africa's Gary Player?

Everybody, including the incomparable Nicklaus, blew it—that is, all except Graham and Mahaffey. They almost did. They backed into their tie for the top, Mahaffey shooting a final round 71 that he thought might get him about 10th money and Graham a 73.

Irwin, who whipped the terrors of Winged Foot a year ago, rallied for a 70 and tied at 288 with Frank Beard, Ben Crenshaw and plump Bob Murphy. Nicklaus, bogeying the last three holes, tied with England's towering Peter Oosterhuis at 289. Palmer was at 290 with young Pat Fitzsimons and Tom Watson.

All of them were wondering how they managed to let this Open slip from their hands.

"There will be 20 guys leaving here who will say, 'If I had played halfway decently I would have won,'" Nicklaus said.

Buckeye Golf Coach Unawed By Talent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jim Brown, the coach of host Ohio State, is unawed by the likes of Wake Forest, Florida and Houston in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Golf Championship starting Wednesday.

"I've got to feel we've got a chance. But our kids have to play up to their potential. That's the only way we can do it," said Brown.

Realistically, he points to defending champion Wake Forest and 1974 runnerup Florida as the logical favorites.

"You've got to go with them from past records," explained the Buckeyes' coach. "But there are people as good as them—Oklahoma State, Brigham Young, Texas, Houston."

In the individual race, Brown named even more challengers for Wake Forest's Curtis Strange, who won the medalist honors as a freshman last year.

"Whoever can hit it straight here should win. All the fairways are 28 to 33 yards wide. We'll chop the rough down to four inches," said Brown of the pretournament manicuring for the hilly layout.

He then forecast 284, Houston's John Mahaffey score in winning the 1970 NCAA tournament here, would be good enough in 1975.

The Ohio State Scarlet course, measuring 6,800 yards and playing to par of 72, is the site of the 72-hole stroke event for the sixth time in 34 years. It also was held here in 1941, 1945, 1951, 1956 and 1970.

Some of Strange's principal challengers, in Brown's mind, will be the last two National Amateur champions, Alabama's Jerry Pate last year and Southern California's Craig Stadler two summers ago.

East Upsets West 23-21 In Football

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — They saw a little Alabama-style football at the 15th annual Coaches All-America football game, and Texas Tech fans got a small taste of what kind of gambling game their new coach Steve Sloan plays.

Sloan, of course, was a former quarterbacking great under Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama. Sloan took Vanderbilt to its first bowl game since the horse-and-buggy days last year in the Peach Bowl.

Ironically, the Peach Bowl opponent was Texas Tech, where Sloan is now employed after strong soul searching about leaving Vanderbilt. The Peach Bowl score was 6-6.

Sloan made a debut of sorts in Lubbock as the East Coach in the All-America Game Saturday. The East upset the West 23-21 before 36,000 local fans and a national television audience who missed 27 minutes of action because of a power line failure.

Asked if it relieved a little pressure being 1-0 in his new hometown, Sloan gave a sly grin and said, "I don't believe the fans will count it."

West Coach Grant Teaff of Baylor said he believes a lot of fans will "count it."

Teaff, college football's Coach of the Year in 1974, said, "I don't like to lose, but in an all-star game you are always happy if no one gets hurt. The fans saw everything out there tonight ... a great game ..."

The West, now owning an 8-7 lead in this series, built up a 13-3 lead on field goals of 39 and 54 yards by Alan Pringle of Rice and a 40-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Neal Jeffrey of Baylor to Bass Francis of Oregon.

Enter Maryland's Louis Carter. He threw a 9-yard halfback touchdown pass to John Sawyer of Southern Mississippi moments after Gary Johnson of Grambling hooked the football out of West quarterback David Humm's arms and rumbled 68 yards for a touchdown.

Carter, named the game's most valuable player, ran three yards for a touchdown in the third quarter to give the East a 23-13 lead.

The West countered on Don Hardeman's five-yard touchdown runs to make it 23-21. Hardeman of Texas A&I later fumbled deep in the fourth period and Sloan took his gamble.

It was fourth-and-one at the East 41. There were less than three minutes left. Sloan said go for it. They made it.

Tight Contests Feature Action In Slow Pitch

Circleville Oil topped Circleville Merchants, 4-3, Ashville Merchants topped the Williamsport Merchants, 12-11, and Roundtown Hobby Shop downed Lowes-Pickaway Concrete, 10-8, in slow pitch action Sunday.

John Lewis hurled the win for the Oilers with Ronnie Morris taking the loss. Dave Truex, Jim Morehead and Ty Ankrom led the Oilers attack.

Dave Hedges pitched the Ashville victory with Ward on the mound for Williamsport. Jeff Deer, Jim Pickering and Wayne Brown all slammed homers for the winners.

The winning pitcher for the Roundtowners was Jim Ramey while Chet Iery took the loss. Roy Strawser blasted a homer with Gary Leasure, Vic Brannon, Dale Imler, Danny Garrett and Jim Ramey adding plate power.

Gary Scott Winner Of Cycle Classic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A victory Sunday in the 20-lap American Motorcycle Association Charity Newsies Classic gave Gary Scott of Springfield, Ohio, the edge he needed to move into first place in AMA point standings.

The 10-mile grand national pro series event at the Ohio State fairgrounds earned Scott top prize of $4,245 and a point total of 645, 170 ahead of Ken Roberts of Villa Park, Calif. His time was 8:50.54.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Richard Neil Wiegand on this his 19th birthday, June 23rd.
Just when his days seemed brightest,
Just when his hopes seemed best,
God called him from among us
To his eternal rest.
Sadly missed by those who love him.
Great Grandmother
Etta Miller

In Loving Memory of my son, Richard Neil Wiegand on his 19th birthday.

Sad and sudden was the call of one so dearly loved by all.
A bitter grief, a shock severe, it was to part with one so dear.

We often sit and think of you and speak of how you died. To think you could not say goodbye.
Before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best.

Oh, God grant you eternal rest.

Deeply missed by Mother, Beverly Jean Wiegand, Grandmother, Daphne Miller, Aunt, Uncle.

The Circleville Herald, Monday June 23, 1975

11

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Mars generous. You now have a fine opportunity to show your adaptability and ability to think and act quickly in emergencies. Try to avoid impulsiveness, however.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Do not become irritated if opposed. Consider: Maybe the other fellow's suggestions are better than you realize. Stress your innate sense of fairness.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Certain situations may seem more complicated than they are; others appear less complex — but here's where caution may REALLY be needed. Don't be caught off guard.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Mixed influences stimulate your ambition and enterprise; also bring tendencies toward stubbornness and chance-taking. Avoid! Conduct all negotiations diplomatically.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): In work matters, unorthodox methods will pay off and, rather surprisingly, others will see things your way.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You MUST give some thought to the future now. Be sure to let superiors hear, in one way or another, about the extra efforts you are making.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Your goal now should be to capture the attention of those in a position to help you further your aims, so polish up your wares — and your personality.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Don't try to buck present trends or you may find yourself at unhappy variance with associates who could be helpful. Scrutinize all offerings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Be flexible, but not easily turned by every wind that blows; eager to take new steps forward, but not at the cost of future losses or setbacks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Make decisions only after careful investigation. Expand energies to elicit lasting results. Avoid the "quick return" angle: it is fraught with traps.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You may now have the responsibility of handling another's financial affairs. Do so with care. Dependence upon you is great.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Curb a tendency toward pessimism. With good judgment and a bit of finesse you can make your outlook brighter, expand possibilities.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine intellect, great versatility and boundless ambition. You may also be gifted with physical prowess but, generally speaking, your inclinations run to the mental. You are not quite as practical as most Canerians, but your imagination and foresight see you through most situations. You would make an excellent business executive, but should leave details to others; could also succeed in the world of finance, but may need a partner of greater drive than your own — such as a Leoite — to carry out your clever ideas. Other fields in which you could excel: military, leadership, the theater, education, medicine. Music or sculpture would make stimulating hobbies for you. Birthdate of: Herbert (Lord) Kitchener, Brit. Field Marshal; Jack Dempsey, Amer. pugilist; Haile Selassie I, ex-Emperor of Ethiopia; Phil Harris, singer.

MELLOW 'LIP' — Former baseball player and manager Leo "The Lip" Durocher tells newsmen in New York that "umpires are the most underpaid men in baseball." Leo used to do battle with the diamond officials before his retirement.

A coalition of Whigs; Free Soilers and other antislavery groups became the Republican party at Ripon; Wis., Feb. 28, 1854.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Good news for big band freaks: Highnote trumpeter Maynard Ferguson and his 13-piece band roar tonight in the finale of this season of public TV's fine "At the Top" jazz miniseries. As is the custom of the 47-year-old bandleader, the emphasis is on brass. His crew features six trumpets, including Ferguson, who curiously takes only a few brief solos during the hour-long show. He also vocalizes — fairly well, too — on an updated version of the old Bunny Berigan hit, "I Can't Get Started With You."

But most of the program is used as a showcase for solos by various members of the band on such tunes as Jimmy Webb's "MacArthur Park" — the band's national anthem by now, Herbie Hancock's "Chameleon" and "Got the Spirit," a jazz-gospel piece by trombonist Slide Hampton. The musicians seem to be having a ball on the show, particularly Ferguson, who first gained fame in the early 1950s as a featured soloist in Stan Kenton's big, powerful jazz bands. It's a safe bet many of today's high school and college musicians aren't strangers to his work, thanks to the numerous concerts he plays each year and the music clinics he and his band hold while on tour. The kids, older jazz buffs and even civilians will find a lot to like in tonight's effort, even if most of it is on the loud side and doesn't show what the band can do when it shifts to lower decibels. A warning: While the sound

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

After considerable floor debate, Sub. H. B. 682, the Malpractice Bill, passed the House this week by a vote of 91-3. The major purpose of the legislation was to provide those in the medical profession with reasonable medical malpractice insurance coverage and to stay current spiraling malpractice insurance rates.

Sub. H. B. 682 is a complex piece of legislation. The bill provides that a Joint Underwriting Association (JUA) be created to operate in the area of medical malpractice insurance. Every insurer or corporation writing health and accident insurance, prepaid medical, health, hospital, surgical and dental service contracts and general liability insurance in Ohio be required to be a member. The JUA would provide medical professional liability insurance to any individual or a hospital entitled to such insurance, but who has been unable to find adequate policies through ordinary methods.

The Joint Underwriting Association plan requires that all insurance companies authorized to issue casualty or health policies in Ohio contribute to the plan and shall be assessed, if necessary, to compensate for any losses the plan might incur.

Under this plan, the Department of Insurance will issue policies to hospitals and physicians, including interns and residents. The bill also creates a stabilization reserve fund to be generated by a $1,000 assessment against all purchasers of malpractice insurance purchased under JUA plan. The fund will provide a cushion between the JUA and the casualty and health carriers.

The JUA is scheduled to operate from the time of passage of the bill until December 31, 1978. Hopefully, the market will have stabilized by that time. Sub. H. B. 682 greatly reduces malpractice insurance costs temporarily. Hopefully, the market will maintain this cost level when the JUA terminates.

Besides establishing an underwriting association, Sub. H. B. 682 also makes numerous changes in the area of malpractice litigation. The bill purposes changes relative to how the state Medical Board may discipline practitioners and limited practitioners. The bill also contains a provision requiring physicians and osteopaths to undergo 150 hours of continuing medical education every three years.

Under the provisions of Sub. H. B. 682, medical malpractice suits are required to be filed in the Court of Claims, however, the trials would be generally conducted in the Court of Common Pleas in the county where the plaintiff resides.

The legislation also makes enforceable, a voluntary agreement to submit to binding arbitration if a future disagreement might arise. Nonbinding arbitration between the patient and a doctor or hospital is also required before filing of a malpractice lawsuit. The decision and findings of the arbitration board are admissible into evidence in any ensuing lawsuit.

Sub. H. B. 682 also limits recovery for general damages (mainly, pain and suffering) in medical malpractice suits not involving death to $200,000. Economic loss recovery, however, is unlimited.

Other provisions of the bill are: Mandates that the Supreme Court make a ruling on how a contingency fee scale will be set up.

Provides that no patient may sue a physician for any oral promise that might have been made regarding a patient's prognosis.

Establishes a extensive informed consent form for the use of all hospital admissions.

Sub. H. B. 682 is now in the Senate Reference Committee and will be referred to committee early next week.

A bill was introduced this week that would provide a break for the consumer of public utilities. The bill contains four major provisions and mandates that they be enforced by the Public Utilities Commission:

1. Requires any utility filing an increase to post notice of that request on the bills of each consumer;
2. Outlaws the requirement for a deposit, except in cases of previous non-payment;
3. Sets up strict procedures that utility companies would have to follow before discontinuing any residential consumer's service; and
4. Creates an installment payment program for residential consumers who cannot afford to pay the total amount of a utility bill in one payment.

The House Insurance, Utilities and Financial Institutions Committee voted out the No-Fault Automobile Insurance bill on Thursday. H. B. 214, if enacted, would make a considerable change in Ohio insurance law.

Under current law, accident injuries must be paid for by the person at fault. The question of who is at fault often leads to lengthy litigation. No-Fault insurance, on the other hand, would eliminate this procedure. The bill provides that a person injured in an accident be compensated for personal injury by his own insurance company.

H. B. 214 establishes a $1,500 threshold. Persons injured could not sue unless their medical expenses exceeded $1,500 or unless the accident resulted in death, disfigurement, significant loss of body function or dismemberment. However, insurance companies would retain the right to sue each other before an arbitrator if the medical expenses of their claimant exceeded $500, with recovery based on fault.

H. B. 214 also mandates insurance coverage for all Ohio motorists and provides penalties for failure to have insurance.

Other provisions of the bill include: A maximum rate for no-fault insurance for its first year of operation

Prescribe no-fault coverage with an aggregate limit of $10,000 for medical, burial and related expenses, loss of income, and replacement of lost services and an additional death benefit of $5,000.

Require insurance companies to offer additional no-fault coverage of at least $50,000 per person and $100,000 per accident.

The bill does not contain provisions for coverage of damaged property.

H. B. 214, if enacted, would provide a better system of compensation to accident victims. Hopefully, it would also eventually lower the cost of auto insurance premium rates.

With the strenuous task of passing out the Budget and the Malpractice Bill in order to comply with a June 30th deadline for each respective bill, the General Assembly can now turn its full attention to other legislative matters relative to energy and the environment, health care, education and consumer protection.

Drownings, Road Crashes Kill 24

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 12 Ohioans died in weekend drownings as daytime temperatures climbed into the 90s. A Toledo soldier who drowned in Kansas was among the victims.

Ft. Riley authorities said 20-year-old Michael Armstrong drowned late Saturday on an outing with friends in Manhattan, Kan. His body was recovered from the Tuttle Creek Reservoir by police and the local rescue squad.

Witnesses said a thunderstorm rolled over the lake while Armstrong was swimming about 100 feet off shore. He drowned while he was trying to reach shore.

In Ohio, authorities recovered Sunday the body of Jack Nelson, 19, of rural Coshocton, who apparently drowned Saturday night at a gravel pit in Coshocton.

Lynn Marcum, 13, of Dayton, drowned early Sunday in a city pool. Witnesses said she and several other girls climbed a fence to get into the closed pool.

Barbara McCarthy, 31, of Cincinnati, drowned Sunday in her three-foot deep backyard pool, police said. Three-year-old Tammy Phillips of Marietta, drowned in the Muskingum River early Sunday, county authorities reported. Her body was found floating in the river by a neighbor.

In Warren County, Robert Hounshell, 20, of Franklin, drowned Sunday in the Little Miami River after a canoeing accident in Wayne Township near Corwin, authorities reported.

Terry Colbertson, 14, of New Alexandria, drowned in Beaver Creek near Fredericktown Sunday, authorities said.

The body of 10-year-old Joanne Stanley of East Liverpool was recovered Saturday night, shortly after she drowned in Beaver Creek in East Liverpool.

Calcutta police said the girl and a friend were floating on a raft which capsized in the middle of the creek. The companion swam to shore but Joanne drowned as she attempted to reach her family on the creek bank, authorities said.

Mike McKeevey, 10, New Petersburg, drowned late Saturday when the small boat in which he was riding capsized on Paint Creek Lake south of Greenfield.

Vermilion police said the body of Donald Shiva of Elyria was recovered Saturday night from Huron Lagoon. He went under in 20 feet of water, authorities said.

In Clark County, a boater recovered the body of 21-year-old Samuel Carpenter of Springfield, who drowned Friday in Brown Reservoir.

Greene County deputies said Kimberly Saunders of Xenia drowned Friday in the Little Miami River when she attempted to retrieve a shoe from the river in John Bryan State Park.

Traffic accidents claimed 12 lives in Ohio this past weekend, the state highway patrol reported.

The victims included four motorcyclists and three pedestrians. The patrol keeps its count from 6 p.m. Friday through midnight Sunday.

The dead:

SUNDAY

ASHLAND — Robert Bentz, 23, Fostoria, in a motorcycle accident on an Ashland County road in Mohican State Park.

CAMBRIDGE — Roger C., 29, and Bonnie M. Keadle, 27, both of Cambridge killed when they lost control of their motorcycle.

WICKLIFFE — Sharon Viola, 18, of Huntington Beach, Calif., in a head-on collision in Wickliffe.

XENIA — Debbie Reagan, 19, hometown unknown, in an accident on a Greene County road.

FAIRFIELD — Brian Allen, 6, and his sister Brenda, 4, of London, Ky., when the car in which they were riding collided with a train on a city street.

SIDNEY — Vernon Sherer, 68, of Point Jefferson, in a two-car crash on a county road in Shelby County.

AKRON — James Kimble, 46, of Akron, who was struck by a car.

FRIDAY NIGHT CLEVELAND — Elizabeth Graves, 43, of Cleveland, when she was struck by a car on a city street.

CLEVELAND — Aaron Sims, 5, of Cleveland, when he was struck by a car.

WARREN — Kathleen A. Kinnison, 28, of Newton Falls, when she was struck by a car as she rode her motorcycle on a Trumbull County road.

Playboy Bunnies Given Break

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Playboy publisher Hugh Hefner has rescinded some of the strict rules he established for women who work in Playboy clubs across the country because he says he wants to make "bunny lib a reality rather than just a slogan."

In a statement issued from his California mansion on Sunday, Hefner said he may have been "just a wee bit overprotective" in setting up rules that forbid bunnies from dating customers, giving out their true names or visiting clubs outside of working hours.

In rescinding those rules, Hefner also announced that bunnies would be made honorary Playboy club members.

Bunnies staged a protest in Chicago last week against what they termed archaic work rules.

VALUABLE CASH COUPONS

PROVIDE A STEADY STREAM OF WEEKLY BARGAINS

Each week, you'll find many valuable cash coupons in Kroger ads. Suppliers of several of the national brands on our shelves also run money-saving coupons in their own ads in the weekly newspaper food section.

Together, these coupons provide an easy way to save many extra food dollars. $100 in annual coupon savings is a conservative figure for the average family that takes maximum advantage of coupon offers.

All you, as a shopper, have to do is clip the coupons when you make up your shopping list from the weekly ads; and redeem them for items you need.

There's nothing new about cash coupons. Yet, even in today's inflationary world, many shoppers are not aware how much coupon savings can relieve the strain on their food budgets.

We hear you and we're trying to help!
